

CHICAGO

Locals are bored with the American Music Awards

NEWS

ENTERTAINMENT

AROUND TOWN

VIDEO

SOUND OFF

ROOF Offers New Morning After Drill

Rooftop lounge offers weekend brunch service

By MARCUS RILEY

Updated 10:15 AM CST, Fri, Nov 20, 2009

Meredith Gregory

It's already one of the hottest spots in the city to spend your evening, but now ROOF at theWit Hotel is making a play to be a weekend morning destination as well.

The 7,000-square-foot rooftop lounge is now offering "The Morning After," a new take on a traditional brunch.

Executive Chef Todd Stein created an Italian-style small plates menu that includes items such as Bomboloni (fried small doughnuts dusted with sugar and cinnamon), Truffled Egg Toast (Brioche toast, farm egg, Fontina cheese, and truffle oil) and Morning Pizza (Cheddar, and ricotta cheese, smoked bacon, potatoes and egg). A handcrafted cocktail menu is also available, because as we all know, the best way to cure a hangover is to get right back on the wagon.

LOOK

Chicago's Heated Outdoor Patios

LOOK

Bite Me: Open Up and Say Aww Yeah

LOOK

About Last Night 8/20

ROOF at theWit Hotel, 201 N. State St. VIEW FULL MENU

First Published: Nov 20, 2009 10:06 AM CST

